

The diagram shows a building layout with three distinct blocks. Block B1 is a horizontal row of units on the right. Block B2 is a vertical column of units in the center. Block B3 is a horizontal row of units on the left, enclosed in a blue rectangular box. Below this box, the text 'BLOQUE 3' is written in blue. The entire layout is set against a light gray background with a dashed line indicating a boundary or path.

Floor plan of the second floor. A large central area is highlighted in red and labeled 'E'. This area includes a staircase and several rooms. The rest of the floor is divided into various rooms and corridors, with some rooms containing furniture like desks and chairs. There are also two circular areas, possibly for ventilation or lighting, located near the center of the floor.
